David L. Abramson, MD

For more than two decades, Dr. David L. Abramson has provided excellent care in plastic, facial and cosmetic surgery at his office in Englewood, NJ. With a certification from the American Board of Plastic Surgery, Dr. Abramson's patients can expect remarkable outcomes on all procedures.

"Both myself and the staff work very hard to help patients achieve their goals, as long as they are realistic," he says.

Dr. Abramson understands that there is a very large misconception about plastic surgery.

"The Internet provides a significant amount of misinformation both about the procedures as well as the recovery and risks," he says. With this in mind, he makes sure his patients are in the loop before and post-surgery so they are aware of the step-by-step process. He regularly updates his website's blog with pamphlets, new topics surrounding the plastic surgery field and before-and-after photos to give patients an idea of how they will look post-surgery.

Asked how to select the right plastic surgery doctor, Dr. Abramson responds, "Patients should make sure their physician is board certified in the specialty they are practicing. Additionally, they should look at leadership roles that the physician has had since these are a sign of respect from peers."

Dr. Abramson was recently named the Acting Associate Chief of Surgical Services at Englewood Hospital and Medical Center, where he also serves on the Foundation Board, and is the President of the New Jersey Society of Plastic Surgeons. He teaches continuing education courses on breast and cosmetic surgery to peers and is an Associate Clinical Professor at the elite Mount Sinai School of Medicine.

Patients who visit Dr. Abramson can receive a variety of services including plastic surgery and med spa services. He offers CoolSculpting, Cellulaze, laser platforms, body contouring, breast and facial surgery, migraine treatments, chemical peels, microdermabrasion, liposuction and tummy tucks, to name just a few. He also offers patients procedural videos to view prior to an office consultation to ensure they fully understand the surgical and treatment process.

"Plastic surgery not only can change your appearance, but also boost your self-confidence and help you feel as young as you look," says Dr. Abramson.

"We provide individualized care so that a patient will be able to obtain the best possible outcome."
